Feline fellas in need of love this Cats Protection Week

Would you like some feline friendship in your life?

If you have answered YES to the above question, then you might be just the person that the feline fellas in the care of Stourbridge and District Cats Protection need to meet right now!

Volunteers will be flat-out during Cats Protection Week trying to find good homes for the male cats in their care.

“We’ve got some really handsome chaps here who would like nothing better than to find a caring new owner during Cats Protection Week,” said Rob Hall, Branch PR Officer.

“We’re experts in finding the right pet for the right owner, so most circumstances can be catered for, from a single man seeking a purr-fect low-maintenance pet, to an elderly person in need of a relaxed and friendly companion,” he added.

Stourbridge and District Cats Protection currently have many male felines looking for new homes, including:

- ✔ George: A nine month old, black and white semi-longhaired gent around town who enjoys a leisurely lie-in at weekends – on a nice comfy bed of course – coupled with good food and lively conversation!
- ✔ Mr Hawkins: A mature and handsome black and white fella who wants a quiet home in a discerning environment, where he can enjoy the finer things in life during his autumn years. A previous war wound has left Mr Hawkins with one eye missing.
- ✔ McGoo and Popeye: Two lively young brothers whose early encounter with cat-flu has left them both with an eye missing. Now fully recovered and full of energy they are looking for a new home together where they can burn off their youthful excesses.
- ✔ Baby: An independent, young, black-and-white feline who knows his own mind. But underneath his cool exterior beats the heart of a passionate latino male with a zeal for fiestas and siestas!
